

To My Love

Happy Valentine's Day! Patricia, I wanted to take a moment today to tell you just how much you mean to me. You bring so much light, warmth, and genuine joy into my life every single day. Whether I'm stressed with my Software Engineering studies or just navigating the ups and downs of life, knowing I have you by my side makes everything better. 💕

You aren't just my babe; you are my greatest motivation and my peace. Your heart is truly marvelous, and I feel like the luckiest man to be the one you chose to love. Thank you for your patience, your laughter, and for being the incredible woman you are. I love you more than words can ever truly express, and I'm looking forward to making many more "marvelous" memories with you. 🌹

Always yours,

Lawrence 💋💕🔥
